STILLWATER PUBLIC LIBRARY
JULY—AUGUST 2018

Artist Biography

I was born and raised in North Dakota where I grew up appreciating big skies and open spaces filled with a variety of grain crops and alfalfa fields, and four distinct seasons offering wonderful to harsh weather conditions. I graduated from Dickinson State University, in Dickinson, ND with a double major in art and vocal music and moved to Minnesota for my first teaching job. I fell in love with the 10,000 lakes and forested hills.

Throughout the years I have taken many masters level courses in drawing and painting-seeking to increase my skills. I have taught art K – 12 and numerous adult education courses. After many years of teaching I decided to stop juggling my need to create my own art with the important job of teaching students – and dedicate my time seriously to my own work.

I currently work out of my studio in my home and have been almost exclusively invested in doing landscapes – a love started many years ago on the North Dakota plains.

Although I have painted many scenes based on the St. Croix Valley and greater Minnesota, I am not solely a regional painter. Rather, I seek, through my travels around the US and abroad, to show the beauty that can be found everywhere we look.

Artist Statement

As a painter of landscapes, my goal is to capture and share the beauty of our planet.

Traveling around the US and abroad, these scenes resonated with me and caused me to “see anew” the great variety that sky, land, and water has to offer. It really doesn’t matter where we look – the beauty is there.

I am drawn to the colors, patterns of lines and shapes, and the textures in the natural world. As a realistic painter, I strive to honestly show what I saw in the most true and forward manner. The diversity in nature seems to be endless – and to me, fascinating. I enjoy working in a large size that invites the viewer to “step in” to the scene and then let the details keep you in and experiencing the place personally.

I work out of my home studio in Stillwater and would be happy to show you more of my work. Private showings are always welcome by appointment. To see more please visit my website at: charlotteschuld.com, and Duluth’s “Waters of Superior Art Gallery”.
